STRATEGY AND THE SEA
Essays in Honour of John B. Hattendorf
Edited by N.A.M. RODGER,
J. ROSS DANCY,
BENJAMIN DARNELL
& EVAN WILSON

An important book, presenting the latest insights by the leading world authorities on naval history. It considers the key strategic issues for navies – European and Asian as well as British, British imperial and American – in all the major wars of the early modern and modern periods.

A NEW HISTORY OF YACHTING

MIKE BENDER

It is nearly a quarter of a century since there has been a history of yachting. This new book by a leading expert in the field tells the story of yachting from Elizabethan times to the present. Viewing yachting as an important social activity, the book explains its development by placing it in the context of political, economic and social changes.

THE MYTH OF THE PRESS GANG

Volunteers, Impressment and the Naval Manpower Problem in the Late Eighteenth Century

J. ROSS DANCY

Overturns the generally held view that the press gang was the main means of recruiting seamen by the British navy in the late eighteenth century.

J. Ross Dancy is to be congratulated for shedding light on a core issue in the history of the Royal Navy. TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

BRITISH PRIVATEERING VOYAGES OF THE EARLY EIGHTEENTH CENTURY

TIM BEATTIE

The story of hugely ambitious and risky long-distance private voyages, only one of which brought huge returns for investors. The book reveals much hitherto unknown detail about the voyages, their organisation and financing, and shows how they caught people's imagination, making a great impact on both maritime strategy and on literature.
